Commodore

Through the beloved lines of our school Alma Mater, which symbolize our loyalty and hopes for the future, we have tried to portray in pictures and words those days which will forever be a pleasant memory. If a smile of remembrance comes upon your face, and the strains of our Alma Mater rise in your heart as you turn the pages of your yearbook, and relive the days of precious friendships, classes, activities, honors, victories, and defeats . . . the carefree days of joy and laughter, books and learning, our mission will have been accomplished.

Maury, fair Maury,
Mould thou our destinies.
Guide us a right in all we do.
Thy name we cherish:
Thy memory honor:
Our Alma Mater, staunch and true.

Great is thy prestige.
Greater thy promise.
Glorious thy past, thy future sure.
Maury, stand steadfast:
Maury, lead truly:
Fair Alma Mater, strong and true.

Proud is thy history.
And proud thy spirit.
Leading us on when duty calls.
Thy name we'll glorify
And ever love thee.
Dear Alma Mater, great and true.

Guide us aright in all we do

And proud thy spirit
Thy name well glorify
Dear Alma Mater, true and true

Proud is thy history
Leading us on when duty calls
And ever love thee

"Honor to those whose words or deeds thus help us in our daily needs."

We owe much to the Maury administration, for through their guidance the school prospers and grows. They work hard to provide an extensive and effective curricular program and give generously of both time and energy to develop us into useful and capable citizens.

Heading the administration for his second year is Mr. James E. Old, who has gained the admiration of both students and faculty. In addition to fulfilling his many duties as principal, he always finds time to be a personal friend and counselor to each of us. Ably assisted by Mr. Rufus Tonelson, assistant principal, Mr. Old works hard to make our years at Maury happy and successful.

Our counselors, too, always are ready to advise us as we struggle with academic or personal problems, in selecting courses, colleges, and the work or profession we wish to take up after graduation. Through their kind, patient, and sincere personalities, they serve unceasingly to enrich the lives of all with whom they come in contact.

Certainly it can be said that the administration remains to be a never forgotten part of our high school life.

Administration

J. J. Brewbaker, superintendent of the Norfolk City School System, prepares to start a new day.

Leading our Norfolk school system and heading our School Board is Mr. J. J. Brewbaker. The job of Superintendent of Norfolk's Schools carries great responsibility, but under Mr. Brewbaker's leadership the School Board has made rapid progress in the development of our system.

His capable assistant, Mr. Edwin L. Lamberth, has given him invaluable aid.

These men frequently visit the city schools to examine the work of the faculties and student bodies. They have pioneered in improved negro and white schooling, new buildings and teachers. The finest school system in Norfolk's history is the goal toward which they are working.

Great is thy prestige

One of the most civic-minded groups in the city is the Norfolk City School Board, composed of Mr. S. C. Lampert, Chairman; Mrs. A. O. Calcott, Vice-Chairman; Mr. M. Farley Powers, Mr. B. D. Melchor, Jr., Mr. Crawford Rogers, and Mr. James A. Carney. This unsalaried group administers the public school system, giving their time, thought, and effort in carrying on successfully the work before them.

The Norfolk School Board is a member of the Associated Public School Systems, a new organization which studies and plans to develop educational policies.

of the graduating

Clyde Brockett, fifth honor graduate of the entire '52 graduating class, and salutatorian of the January group, placed first in the second year French Tournament in '52. Clyde took an active interest in music and was a member of both the band and orchestra. Clyde's ambition of being a concert pianist may well be fulfilled.

Ruth Harrell, second honor graduate of the '52 graduating class and valedictorian of the January group, was named the student most outstanding in the field of science here at Maury. Through this she won the honor to compete for the Bausch and Lomb scholarship of $3,200. Ruth made a survey of the first and second honor graduates for the past thirty-five years. From these she made certain scientific deductions which gained for her the chance to go to Washington to compete for the various Westinghouse scholarships. In this contest Ruth placed as one of the top forty students in the nation and was the first student from a Virginia school ever to be eligible for entry. Indeed Maury may justly boast Ruth's accomplishments!

classes of 1952

Howard Kesser topped the honor graduate list with an average of 96.65. Besides concentrating on his school work, Howard enjoys the company of girls and convertibles. Previous to his entry at Maury, he participated in school activities as Associate editor of the BLARE and was vice-president of the student council at Blair Junior High School. He established himself at Maury as the first president of the Key Club. Howard was also a member of the Mathematics Club. Maury takes her hat off to Howard.

Another of Maury's brilliant personalities, James Marshall was historian of the graduating class. Through his high scholastic average in science and mathematics he was able to win the Bausch and Lomb award. His spare time is divided between building his ham radio set, fishing, and sea stories. Remember this name and face, for in future years it will be famous.

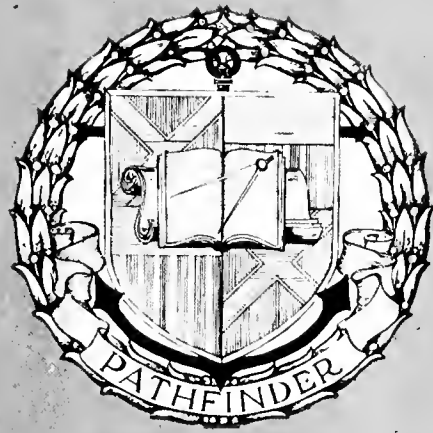

Leslie Belsha, June's third honor graduate, and fourth in the 1952 class has not only been outstanding in his studies but also in activities of the school. Leslie has served as secretary of the Sophomore class and President of the Senior class. He has taken part in Student Government and was a standout on the 1951 football squad. Certainly no one can say that Leslie isn't versatile.

Fun and Frolic

Commodores certainly lead a full life! There are so many activities in which to participate during the year. Not a single stone is left unturned, so every Mauryite is to join in the activity which most interests him.

An event looked forward to with a great deal of anticipation is the school's annual presentation, "Merry Maury Minstrels," a variety show which features talented students and a teacher's skit. This gives students and teachers a chance to laugh and work together, thus creating better relationships.

The highlight of the year for graduating Seniors is the prom. This gala occasion puts the perfect finishing touch to the end of a student's high school career.

Every fall the Distributive Education Club puts on their fashion show, with the Distributive Education students modeling some creations from the Teen-Age Department of the Center Shops.

The fall of the year heralds "Career Day," when colleges and universities from all over the country, Armed Forces, Hospital Nursing Schools and Trade Schools send their representatives to Maury to lend students a helping hand in choosing their future career.

Activities such as these make the school year an enjoyable one for every single Commodore!

Activities

Maury may be justly proud of Warner Hirsch, who took first place in the city "I Speak For Democracy" contest for which the city council presented him a trophy. He then went on to place second in the state contests. Warner, a Junior, has truly learned the meaning of "democracy."

Last summer, Waverly Dickens attended the Boy Scout Jamboree in Austria, and later toured Italy, Paris, Naples, Sorrento, Rome, Florence, and the Isle of Capri. Sent by the Scouters Club, with financial help from civic organizations, Waverly explained that the trip's purpose was to bring about better understanding among countries.

Ralph Sumerlin, better known as "Shotgun" Sumerlin because of his outstanding prowess on the gridiron, is one of Maury's best-known personalities. His success on the football team brought him honors as the city's most outstanding player of the year. His graduation leaves our team lacking an excellent fullback.

Students

Maury's sophomore, Rose Nixon, and junior, Walter Mehard, took high honors in the city-wide competition of ping pong, after placing first throughout the Maury competition. Having defeated students from Blair, Ruffner, and Granby, they emerged victorious to take the city championship title.

Gerald Einhorn, a member of the Maury Band and Orchestra, and also the Norfolk Symphony Orchestra, makes music his chief interest. He plays first cornet for the Band and first trumpet for the Symphony Orchestra. For three successive years he has held first chair in the all State Band and for two years he has won first division and second division in the District Music Competition Festival. There is no doubt in our minds that Gerald will go far with his talents.

Ruth Harrell, valedictorian of the January senior class, took high honors in the field of science. This year Maury named Ruth most outstanding student in science and through this she was given the Bausch and Lomb award. She received a trip to Rochester, New York, in order to compete for the Bausch and Lomb scholarship of $3,200.00.

HOBBY LOBBY

E.W.G.

What's this! Many Mauryites around school have interesting and intriguing hobbies, some of which we have chosen to put in your "Commodore" in order that you may become acquainted with them. These hobbies range all the way from card collecting to practicing Indian lore and Magic. Many of the students have been working with their hobbies as long as seven years. We have only to delve into the outside lives of our fellow-students and we soon find many interesting facts which would have otherwise been hidden from us forever. We hope that you will enjoy these pages in your yearbook.

Beware! There's a lepidopterist in Maury! Now don't be frightened Commodores; he's just John King. His hobby is collecting butterflies for various decorative and artistic uses. Seventy-five different types can be found in his collection, some of which were extremely difficult to capture. His butterflies are truly beautiful and valuable.

What have we here? Arthur Old displays his unusual and interesting hobby—soil collecting. Arthur, who started his collection in the spring of 1940, has soil from forty-eight states, the District of Columbia, and seven Canadian Provinces: British Columbia, Alberta, Saskatchewan, Ontario, Quebec, New Brunswick, and Nova Scotia.

Magic—What a thrilling hobby! Lloyd Jenkins has worked with magic for seven years and is now personal and business manager of the Shondini Magic Shows. They perform for charity organizations and at places of entertainment. Lloyd does some magic tricks and clowns for the show. He plans to make magic his profession. Presto—Who can tell!

Frank Reid, Billy Taylor, John Herbert, and Preston Tyree are four of the twenty-five members of the Indian Lore Club headed by Mickey Warner of William and Mary. These boys have been practicing Indian Lore for about three years. Meetings are held on Wednesday nights at which time the members learn Indian customs, dances and chants.

Bunting Brown and Maurice Doumar have been collecting stamps for several years. During this time they have managed to obtain German, Mexican, Canadian, Indian, Austrian, Italian, Australian, and English stamps. All in all their total collections amount to several thousand stamps. Bunting and Maurice have not only found an interesting hobby, but one which will, no doubt, in later years become valuable.

FASHIONS of '52

The girls who took part in the D. E. Club fashion show line up for a grand finale. Joyce O'Connor, Joyce Liverman, Idonia Newburn, Kathryn Price, Edna Warren, Louise Miller, Alice Kennon, Nellie Thompson, Marcia Glazer.

While modeling an attractive party dress, Joyce Liverman, a Maury student, chooses a suitable coat to wear in the Distributive Education Club's fall fashion show.

"See? Isn't it lovely?" That's what Nellie Thompson asks as she displays a fashionable evening dress.

Joyce O'Connor takes time out to pose for a picture while modeling lounging pajamas for the fashion show.

Peggy Cherry does a graceful turn before the mirror in the dress she has selected to wear.

The loveliest night of the year

The highlight of every school year is undoubtedly the annual Senior Prom. This year's prom, held at the Norfolk Yacht and Country Club, lived up to everyone's highest expectations. The theme of the dance, "The Good Ship Senior Prom," was a nautical one. With Miss Frances Hatzopolis as captain, the Prom was steered to success. Senior officers also played an important part in the affair. The music was furnished by Raymond White and his orchestra, and in between numbers, the dancers enjoyed punch served with the compliments of the Senior Class. Needless to say, when the last dance was played and the punchbowl drained, the dancers, reluctant to leave, but satisfied by a happy evening, left for home.

What is this? The conga line, of course. The members of this conga line will never say that the 1952 Senior Prom was dull.

Standing under the good-luck horseshoe which decorated the doorway at the Senior Prom, are Wanda McGowan and Raymond Hightower, one of the many couples who enjoyed the festive occasion.

It looks like everybody is having a good time at the Senior Prom which was held at the Norfolk Yatch and Country Club.

Roger Sundahl, Faye Winfield, Donna Lane, Winston Burroughs, Martin Gaston and Patricia Boyce have decided to take a rest and sit one dance out.

Preparing for

William & Mary—

"Yes, freshmen must be in by eleven on weekends." Here a William & Mary representative answers questions put forth by students. Although many questions were asked concerning courses, inquiries on social life were more numerous.

Armed Forces—

Uncle Sam is calling these boys. Representatives from the five different branches of the Armed Forces talk about and answer questions about their own branch. Many of the Maury boys attended this conference.

the Future -- CAREER DAY

R. M. W. C.—

Interest was displayed by these girls in Randolph-Macon Woman's College. Margaret Wilkinson and Joanne Saunders probably want to join their many friends who have already left for college.

Nursing—

Nursing, a popular profession, drew many of the Maury girls to its conference. With lectures, registered nurses inform the students of the nurses training and duties.

CAREER DAY

Career Day at Maury is a very eventful day. Then we are visited by the representatives of many different colleges, trade schools, and the armed services. Sponsored by the Future Teachers of America and the Key Club and their advisors, Miss Gill, and Mr. Lazaretti, this program gives Maury students a chance to decide on their plans for the future.

V. M. I.—

How about good old V. M. I., boys? Cox Dowdy and Billy Moore are among the students considering attending this school. The representative gladly answers their questions and supplies information.

Maury lead truly

And proud thy spirit
Thy name we'll glorify
Dear Alma Mater, great and true

Proud is thy history,
Leading us to the caller
And ever

In this section of the Commodore, we have included our clubs and organizations. These societies are made up of students who wish to further their interest in various subjects. Through the medium of these activities, we, the students of Maury, have developed co-operation and school spirit.

Clubs, such as the Y-Teens and the two Hi-Y's, promote good fellowship and thus obtain a clearer conception of their fellow students' views and opinions.

French and Spanish clubs are formed to further our knowledge of other cultures. Our language organizations carry on active correspondence with students abroad and promote friendly relations.

Students interested in journalism and other phases of literary works have the opportunity of becoming members of any one of Maury's publications: the Commodore, the Maury News, or the Mapmaker.

The Math Club is open to students wishing to advance their knowledge in the field of mathematics.

Still fairly new here at Maury, is the Bible Club, for students actively interested in Bible study.

The F. T. A. gives pupils, interested in teaching as a career, a fine opportunity to get advanced experience.

Besides these clubs mentioned, there are many more which enable each student to seek and find a group to his liking and interest.

MAURY'S

Locking over the results of the year's hard work are COMMODORE co-editors Jane Blake and Ann Lee Quincy. They may indeed be proud of the finished product.

Our COMMODORE, the forty-second edition of the Maury yearbook, an annual publication by and for Maury students, is a book which we hope will be treasured by each of you through the years to come.

Countless hours of hard work have gone into the making of this annual, for we, the staff of '52, have striven to give you a true version of life at Maury. For weeks and months and even many hours after school, staff members typed frantically, identified pictures, sorted out copy, and rushed about school rounding up information in order to meet deadlines.

Words such as "dummy" and "copy" became everyday utterances of staff members as they became familiar with the planning and printing of a yearbook. Besides the regular duties of a yearbook staff, such as editing of copy, art work, photography, and typing of copy, we had the responsibility of soliciting ads from local businessmen.

However, through the combined efforts of all staff members, the COMMODORE was finally put together, section by section, with the desire to create for you a clear and accurate pictorial record of the year's most outstanding events.

So here it is—your COMMODORE. We hope that for years to come, looking through this book, you will be able to recall the days you spent at Maury in 1951-52.

High finances! Business managers of the COMMODORE, Jane Parker and Relmond Hodges, record money received from our advertising.

COMMODORE artists Anne Russell and Beth Guthridge talk over their work. Missing from the picture is Nancy Jenkins.

FIRST ROW: Roslyn Brown, Nancy Owens, Eleanor Drewery, Pat O'Brien, Bernie Weiss.

Hot off the press

The goal of the "Maury News," the school newspaper, is to keep students and teachers alike informed about events and activities going on around school. Published bi-monthly, it is managed and edited by Maury students, who strive to collect the most interesting, entertaining news possible, to make our "Maury News" a colorful and snappy publication.

Taking time out from their duties as "Maury News" editors are Bernie Weiss, Sports Editor, Pat O'Brien, Editor-in-Chief, Eleanor Drewery, News Editor, and Nancy Owens, Feature Editor.

These "Maury News" reporters, studying other school newspapers for possible new ideas, are John Olah, Diane Hansen. Seated: Glenda Feazel, Allen Hooper, Arlene Novak, and Gloria Caplan.

The English 9 class, which specializes in composition, is especially interested in the Mapmaker.

FIRST ROW: E. Drewrey, R. Semel, E. Herzberg, S. Wallace.

SECOND ROW: M. Gibson, P. O'Brien, C. Olinger, P. Harrington.

THIRD ROW: N. Peele, B. McWilliams, V. Price, J. Morgan, M. Liebman.

Budding Writers get their start

When we are young and creative, writing is a part of our life. The Mapmaker, now in its infancy, is an outlet for literary writings and is composed of the best writings from all English classes. It is for all who enjoy poetry or creative writing, and Maury students should be proud of their Mapmaker. The sponsor is Miss Betty Goodwyn.

Dorothy Kanaday is the typist for the Mapmaker.

STUDENT COUNCIL

What would our country do without a government? What would Maury do without our student government? Here, in our self-governing student community, student government has come to be known not by the mechanics of organization, but rather by the fact that all students have a voice in determining the manner in which student activities shall be operated. Under our most capable president, Pete Georgallis, we learn in a sense to govern ourselves, for through this body we voice our own opinions concerning the welfare of the school.

The student government consists of ten council members, five seniors, three juniors, two sophomores, and a representative from each homeroom. It is also open to any student who wishes to attend or submit a useful idea before the council. This assembly, under the sponsorship of Mrs. Feintheil, meets bi-monthly to discuss problems and work on projects. Among the most important projects were the exam exemption plan and student court plan.

It can be added that the accomplishments and services rendered by this body insure a long and progressive growth of student government at Maury.

Music, music, music

Throughout the school year faint sounds of harmony could be heard coming from Room 6, for many hours were spent in preparation for our concerts. In addition to our regular rehearsals each day, chorus members could be seen coming to school early for section rehearsals.

The first program of the year was given at Creed's High School, where the Chorus presented a group of Christmas songs. Other appearances included the Rotary Club, the annual Feast of Lights at Old Saint Paul's Church, the Spring Concert, and graduation music. However, perhaps the most impressive was the Christmas Program, given in our school auditorium, for the black and white vestments of the Chorus, the candlelight processional, and carols combined to make the day long remembered.

Chorus Personnel: Mrs. Wood, director; Mrs. Batten, pianist; Liebman, president; Stewart, vice-president; Strohm, secretary and treasurer; Matthews, librarian; Jordan, attendance recorder; Cynthia Wallace, keeper of vestments. 1st Sopranos: Brinkley, Carter, Gallop, Gilbert, Harrington, Jones, Merritt, Norvell, Parrish, Paul, Quincy, Saunders. 2nd Sopranos: C. # The Play's the Thing

The foremost promoter of dramatics in Maury is Mrs. Ellen Wadsworth, sponsor and director of the Dramatic Club, who works readily and earnestly with students in the planning and production of plays.

The Maury Dramatic Club has provided us with many intriguing and exciting hours. Although the members of the club thoroughly enjoy producing plays and skits, plenty of hard work is also included in their schedule. Many meetings are held to discuss the problems and difficulties which arise in such a club; however, the club members always take time out for fun and enjoyment. This club provides a perfect outlet for students who have "acting in their blood," and attempts to cultivate in these students real acting ability.

FRONT ROW: Esta Comess, Sandra Cohen, Sara Gallamore, Warner Hirsch, treasurer; Sally Futrell, secretary; Elayne Herzberg, president; Alice Lou Jordan, sergeant at arms; Nick Geras, vice-president; Mary Louise Whitley, Marilyn Rosenfeld.

SECOND ROW: Kathy Geelan, Nancy Lee, Dorothy Akers,

The Dramatic Club play "A Boy On the Meadow" turned out successfully with Valerie Price, Jacqueline Morgan, Sally Futrell, Dorothy Akers, and Thomas Webb portraying the characters. Warner Hirsch did a grand job of directing it.

Betty McCullough, as a would-be artist in "You Can't Take It With You," finds Jimmy Mayfield a willing model.

Characters in "You Can't Take It With You": Mayfield, Herzberg, Lowenthal, Buck, McCullough, Lewis, Hirsch, Traylor, Turner, Morgan, White, Abram, King, Geras, Jones, Webb.

SEATED: Barbara Burnside, Virginia Best, Gilmer Chamblin, Kay Tunstall, Elizabeth Walker, Gail Branch, Marilyn Whitson, Jo-Anne Harrell, Dotty Spence, Judy Bernstein, Patricia Lane.

Future Leaders

Organized last May, the Future Teachers of America has mushroomed from its small beginning to become one of Maury's most active and popular clubs, winning many to a career of teaching. Certificates, given at graduation, stating the number of credits earned for their hours of work, prove an influential factor in the granting of scholarships.

The Maury High School Key Club, with ideals and organization similar to its sponsor, the Kiwanis Club of Norfolk, was organized in the Spring of 1951. A member of the Key Club International, the Maury branch seeks to develop leadership and initiative, to serve the school and community, and to prepare students for useful citizenship.

SEATED: Halley Merrill, Treasurer; Howard Kesser, President; James Perry, Secretary; Mayer Liebman, Vice-President.

WEST HI-Y

For Boys only

The West Chapter of the Maury Hi-Y is part of a nation-wide organization backed by the YMCA. This chapter is under the direction of Mr. Fairfax Berkley and Mr. Jack Cooke.

The Maury Regatta, the only high school regatta in the world, and the distribution of baskets at Christmas to the needy, are two of the biggest items on the Hi-Y program.

The purpose of the Hi-Y is "to create, maintain, and extend throughout the home, school, and community, high standards of Christian character."

JOHNSTON HI-Y

FIRST ROW: William Hales, Boys' Work Secretary; Luther White, Advisor; Leigh Stewart, Kenneth Reidell, George Breckenridge, James Dalby, Robert Brock, Gary Bryant, Maurice Early, John Chapell, Fred Sawyer, Roddey Jones, Advisor.

SECOND ROW: Gus Catherine, Ernest Butler, Wilson Delk,

As in the past, the Johnston Hi-Y has sought to strengthen and show the importance of strong character in the daily lives of its members. Each student through his experience with the Hi-Y, hopes to build a strong foundation for a successful life.

This year the goals have been high and the members can proudly say that they have been reached. Through a series of planned programs, the members study current, civic, and social problems. Beach parties, dances, and Christmas baskets all are a part of their year in the Hi-Y.

Paul Midgette, William Moore, Preston Tyree, Robert Morris, Kenneth Lambert, Alan Decker, Rodney McCormick, Robert Lattimer, Charles Sawyer, Walter Hoggard.

THIRD ROW: Jack Kennedy, Ranny Cahoon, John Cootes, Alan Hocper, Halley Merrill, Monty Horner, Curtis Hathaway, Tony Marchione, Edgar Tyree, Doug Weich.

SIXTH ROW: Milton Herring, Bernie Weiss, Mary Alice Carhart.

For many years Maury had two literary organizations known as the Maury Literary Society, for boys, and the Bain, for girls. In 1946 these consolidated to become the Maury-Bain Literary Society.

By developing the literary talents of Maury pupils through prose and poetry reading, public speaking, and debating, the Maury-Bain organization helps to train students for the State Literary Contests at Charlottesville. This year, from the six who represented Maury in the district contest, four were winners, and one went on to win the state contest. This showing is indeed a credit to the English teachers of Maury and the Maury-Bain Literary Society.

Literature of the past and present

The Bible Club is designed to encourage Christian education and spiritual growth among the Maury students. At their weekly meetings the members participate in singing hymns, taking part in Bible Quizes, and giving their personal testimonies.

We like Coed schools

The aim of the Y-Teens, sponsored by the Y.W.C.A., is to promote fun, fellowship, and service among its members. Numerous projects completed by the group each year included camp week-ends in May and September, a trip to New York and the United Nations in the spring, National and State Conferences, basketball and softball games with Granby, and various social services such as collecting chocolates at Christmas for foreign children and visits to Saint Mary's orphanage. Good times are had by all in this outstanding club at Maury.

The Monogram Club is composed of lettermen of various athletic teams. Their prime purpose is to promote sportsmanship in our daily school life. Besides regular meetings, they sponsor various other activities.

Art Club

The art club though small, plays an active part in the school life at Maury. Besides drawing for their own amusement, they design posters for our halls, and enter the Maury vs. Granby float parades held on Thanksgiving Day every year. Beth Guthridge is president.

Miss Hoggard and her diligent office helpers assembled on the twenty-first of December to celebrate at a Christmas party which turned out very successfully.

Office Helpers

The chief objective of many of the courses in Maury's curriculum is to train students for work in the business world. Upon graduation from high school these students of the Electric Shop will be able to obtain employment in this field.

Vocational Students at Work

These students and many others who spend two bells a day in the Print Shop are learning a trade which they have put to use many times. They are responsible for the tickets and programs distributed at Maury presentations, and at Christmas they printed cards which were given to every one in school.

And proud thy spirit

Proud is thy history,
Leading us on when duty calls,
And ever love thee,

And proud thy spirit,
Thy name we'll glorify,
Dear Alma Mater, great and true,

When the doors of Maury were flung open in September, the halls became a hustling mass, with whispers of football on the lips of every student. Everyone waited in anticipated expectation for football season to fall into full swing. The gridiron stars heartened us with every victory, but, heavy hearts were worn when the Blue and Gold was defeated.

Time flew only too quickly and before we knew it basketball had stepped into the limelight. Throughout the season Coach Tonelson's experienced team entered each contest with the will and spirit to win.

The thrill of basketball soon faded as January and then February became months of the past and March and April heralded our spring sports.

At the sound of the three o'clock bell, Mauryites rushed to City Park to witness the outcome of the Maury baseball games. Students participating in tennis, wrestling, and track had already spent countless hours in practice to achieve perfection in their respective sports.

The field of athletics has played a large and important part in the school life at Maury, for it has taught each and every student the meaning of good sportsmanship and school spirit.

FOOTBALL

Most of the squad begin hustling into their uniforms right after sixth bell. Some of the boys find a few seconds to chat about football practice before racing over to Blair Field. A rugged practice will follow for two or three hours, so that the team might be fit and trim for this week's game.

Bobby Brock and Jack Hopkins chuckle at Walt Ishpording as he looks for his underwear. Odom seems to be a little behind in his dressing.

Maury's grid team was really "on the ball" this season. Under the "gentle" lashing of head coach Ralph Hendrix, the boys were whipped into fine shape.

Left, backfield coach, Dickie Harrison, line coach Irvin Upson and head coach Ralph Hendrix plan strategy to be used on Norview.

The Commodores traveled to Hampton's Darling Memorial Stadium to take on the Crabbers. Billy Edward, Ralph Summerlin, and Sonny Rose gave Maury a slight edge in the first half. The score at the half, 6-6. In the second half fullback Billy Harrison and company proceeded to run wild. Final score, Hampton 20—Maury 6.

Maury traveled to Roanoke to play their last and their best game of the season. There was hard line play by both teams. The game was in doubt until the last 30 seconds when Sonny Rose heaved a pass to Billy Edward for the Final T. D. Score, Maury 25—Roanoke 19. Bobby Derring and Ralph Summerlin gave support to the Maury victory.

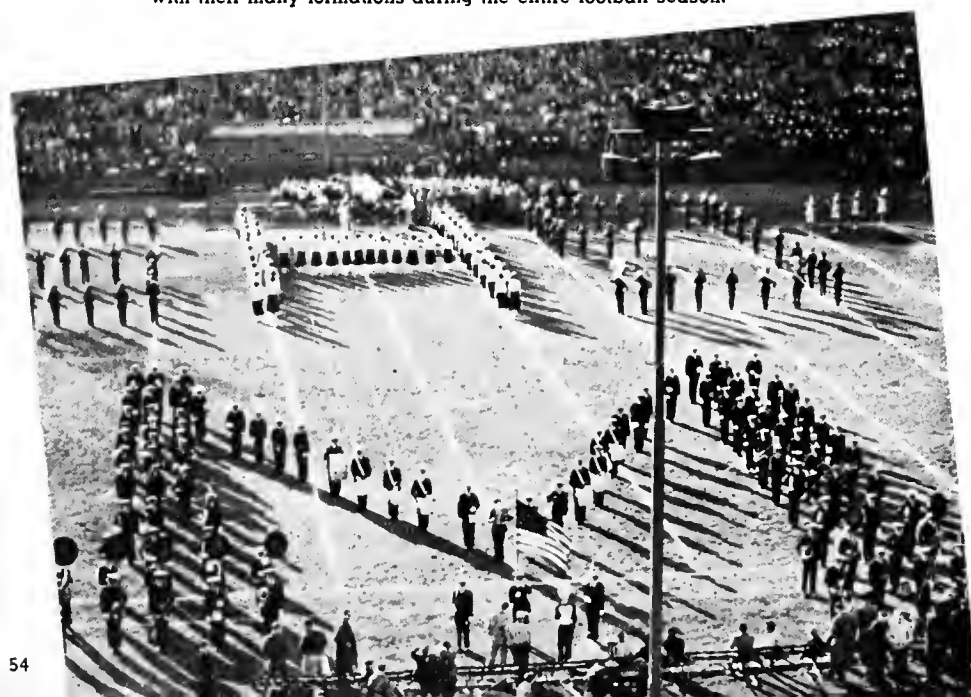

End Billy Edwards and wingback Sonny Rose, both seniors, acted as co-captains for the 1951 football team.

The Maury Band plays the Alma Mater during half time festivities at the Maury-Granby game. Combined with the Granby Band they pictured moving formations showing the growth of Norfolk. The Band contributed to our enjoyment with their many formations during the entire football season.

A most familiar sight at football and basketball games is the cheerleaders. Led by Nancy Hanna, they are an example of school spirit and good sportsmanship.

Give 'em a Yell

The Maury Commodores opened their '51 season invading South Norfolk's Cascade Park. Coach Ralph Hendrix uncovered the new Maury formation, the double wing. South Norfolk scored first on a pass. Sonny Rose took the next kick-off on his fifteen and raced 85-yards to pay-dirt. Score at half, Maury 6 and South Norfolk 7. Maury scored twice in the third quarter on runs by Rose and Ralph Summerlin. South Norfolk scored in the fourth quarter to end the scoring for the night. Final score Maury 19—South Norfolk 14. Leroy Odom, Billy Edwards, and John Creekmore were outstanding in line play.

Wingback Rose skirts right end as Creekmore forms interference.

End Billy Edwards (21) moves in to form interference for Arnold Grooby (47).

Mr. Rufus Tonelson who took time off from his duties as Assistant Principal to act as basketball coach, dons a warm up jacket before practice.

The basketball quint which represented Maury for the 1951-52 season was one of the best in the last few years. They opened the season with wins over Catholic 40 to 28 and, the Alumni 48 to 40. Conference play got underway with a 39 to 28 victory over Newport News, the defending State Champions. George Harper and Martin Gaston stood out for Maury. The Commodores won their fourth straight as they defeated South Norfolk 52 to 45. Maury's spotless record was marred by road trip defeats at the hands of Wilson 48 to 42, Hampton 63 to 53, and Lynchburg 55 to 41.

Cradock players moved in on Buddy Payne too late to defend against his shot. Harry Knickerbocker is alert for a rebound if the shot misses.

Buddy Payne finds an opening and drives in for a snowbird in the Warwick game. Billy Edwards stands back to watch the performance. Maury won the game 74 to 52.

BASKETBALL

The 1951-52 basket ball team lines up for a pre-game warm-up. Front Row: Paul Dotson (51), Bobby Howlett (41), Richard Jones (55), Maxey Bryant (31), Sonny Rose (33), Buddy Payne (35), Walter Ishpording (52), Roger Sundahl (42), Willie McCraw (53), Martin Gaston (32), Billy Edwards (45), Harry Knickerbacker (54).

Forward Buddy Payne tries a shot from the floor during the Granby game. Maury's Martin Gaston (32) and Granby's Ben Tench (20) cover the backboard. Maury won the game 40 to 29.

Senior Guard Harry Knickerbacker, who played an important part in many of Maury's basketball victories, demonstrates his hook shot.

Center Martin Gaston goes in for a lay up shot in the Cradock game. Richard Jones (55) and Buddy Payne (35) close in for a rebound. Maury defeated Cradack 59 to 46.

BASKETBALL

Maury's basketball fortunes prospered as successive victories were scored over Cradock, Warwick, Norview, and Granby. Richard Jones and Buddy Payne were high point men for the night. In the Warwick game Maury finally found the range as they took Warwick 74 to 52. George Harper, Harry Knickerbocker, and Buddy Payne crashed the scoring column for double digits. Norview fell victim next by a score of 47 to 37 as Martin Gaston was high man. In the all important Granby game, Sweetie Howlett, George Harper, and Martin Gaston combined talents to defeat Granby by a score of 40 to 29.

The streak was broken by Newport News as they went wild at Maury's expense to the tune of 71 to 46.

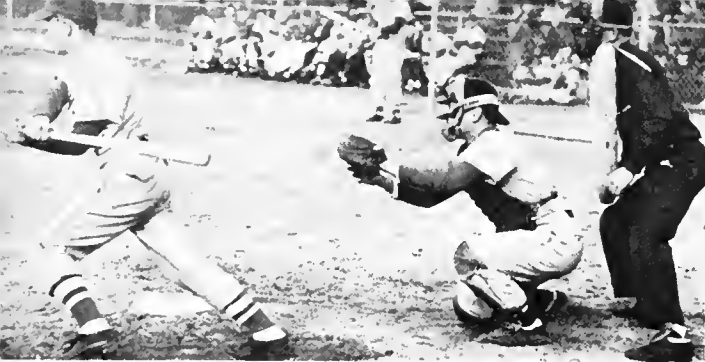

Maury center, Martin Gaston, leaves his feet as he hooks for two points against Norview. Martin was one of the most consistent performers on the squad. Martin got more than his share of rebounds and was usually high in the scoring parade.

TAKE ME OUT

Spring always heralds one of Maury's most popular sports, baseball, which is also the great American past time. Beginning in April, games were played weekly at city park with Maury battling it out vigorously against rival teams.

The 1952 team was strengthened by the return of six lettermen—outfielders Harry Knickerbocker, and Billy Edwards, shortstop Maxie Bryant, second baseman George Dragas, and pitchers Sammy Eure and Billy Hairston. They gave coach Bob Bates a good foundation for his 1952 squad.

The Maury Commodores 1951 season went down in the books as a success. Their record of 9 won and 8 lost, however, does not fully show the fine quality of Maury's performance, because five of the losses were tough ones, decided by only one run. The Commodores managed to beat Granby decisively in two out of three games, which helped morale considerably.

Outstanding hitters of the season were Billy Edwards, Jack Copperthite, and Bobby Howerin. Highlighting the pitching staff were Sammy Eure and Billy Hairston.

TO THE BALL GAME

Maury pitcher, Sammy Eure, rounds third base on his way to score during the Granby game. Pitcher Bubba West awaits the throw from the outfield.

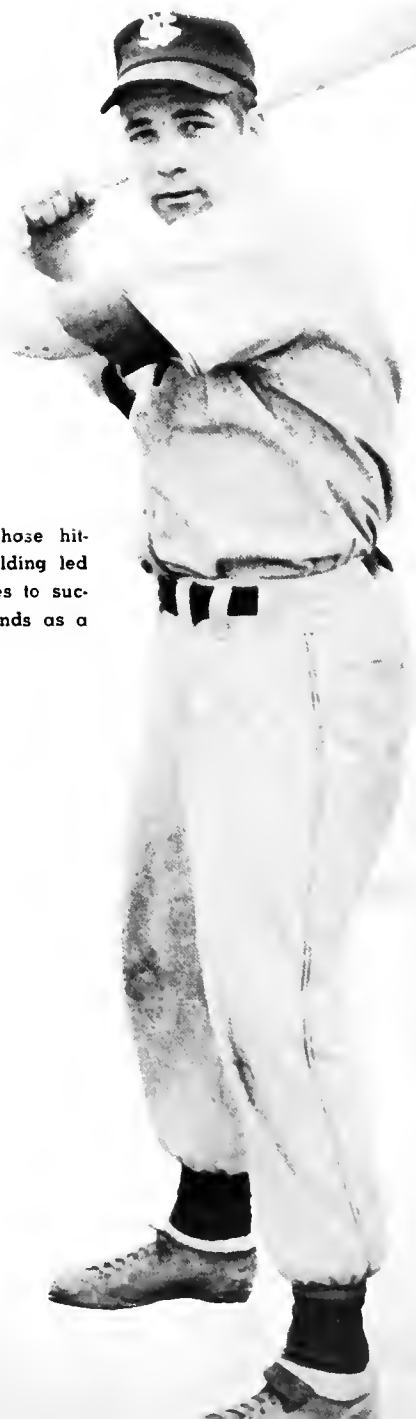

Granby shortstop, Dickie Jennings, scores as Maury catcher, Mel Gotleib, receives the throw to the plate too late. Maury went on to win the game, 10-2.

Some of the stars returning to the baseball team in '52 are Sammy Eure, Billy Edwards, and Harry Knickerbocker.

Jack Copperthite, whose hitting and alert outfielding led the 1951 Commodores to successive victories, stands as a Maury spark-plug.

ANNUAL HI-Y REGATTA

Regatta time! and the 19th annual Maury Regatta got started with the usual frantic preparations, last-minute advice, and Regatta-day excitement.

The Maury Regatta is unique among regattas, as it is the only one sponsored and run entirely by a high school organization, the Maury Hi-Y, West Chapter. It is a very well run too, and always starts the sailing season off with a bang. Its early date, the last of May, causes many skippers to hump a bit with their spring fitting out, but the results are always good. This year 25 boats participated, 6 Hampsons, 7 Penguins and 12 Moths. Claiborne Copeland, a really hot little moth skipper, took first in his class. Dinky Vail, a former Maury student and one of the best skippers in the Chesapeake, took first in the Hampton class for the third straight year. Barry August, a visiting skipper from Hampton, captured first honors in the Penguin class with three firsts for the three-race series.

Mr. Old presented trophies to the winners at the Yacht Club. Following this, the three champs were thrown into the river for their annual dunking. Thus the Maury Regatta was officially brought to an end until another sailing season, another "Regatta time!"

Speed in every line of this Snipe! And these girls, not to be outdone by the boys, show off their skill, too.

They're off, with No. 346 in the lead. But if you're racing and looking at the rest of the fleet from this angle, don't give up hope, because a race is never over until you cross that finish line.

Happy Hogshire and
Sam Hill heeling over.

At Maury the boys are not the only ones who show enthusiasm for athletics. Our girls also take an active interest in volleyball, basketball, baseball, tennis, golf and ping-pong. Every belle competes to form an outstanding team and later between classes for top honors. The girls also study health and first aid as a course in gym. This is an important part of their work. At the end of the course the girls receive first aid cards issued by the Red Cross.

A girls' play day is held in the Spring. Each year Wilson, South Norfolk, Granby, Norview and Maury take turns being hostesses to play day, and a good time is had by all.

In a fast game of doubles, we see Virginia Thornhill and Jeanne Pratts.

Rose Nixon and Dot Walker jump for a high ball during a fast game of basketball supported by Kay Meekins and Pearl Saunders.

GIRLS DISPLAY

THEIR SKILLS

M. Seymour, M. Evans and T. Baram defend the net, putting their last calorie into returning the volleyball. N. Wright, F. Daniels, S. Gallamore, S. Bashara, G. Hoggard, J. Grillo in the secondary are saving their calories.

Will she hit the ball? Who cares? With gollers like Charlotte Jordan in gym class, no wonder the boys' interest in golf has picked up.

Homerun, or a dud, slugger Faye Guess puts everything into her swing during a softball game. Catcher Eleanor Daughtrey waits—Is it a hit?

A love game. Sarah Gallamore's eager look and Charlotte Hewett's hopefulness show that this is a tight game.

Proud is thy history,
Leading us on when duty calls,
And ever love thee,

And proud thy spirit,
Thy name will glorify,
Dear Alma Mater, great and true.

The Underclassmen of Maury, the Sophomores and Juniors, literally make a solid foundation around which school projects and activities are built. Juniors and Sophomores take an understanding interest in Maury and its curriculum and strive toward its betterment. The Sophomore Class, sponsored by Miss Adkins, helps to encourage group participation and school spirit in Mauryites. School clubs and organizations are made up largely of sophomores, who work willingly and enthusiastically for the advancement of their clubs.

The Junior Class, which is backed by Miss Margaret Eggleston, its sponsor, also makes up an extremely important part of the Student Body. Juniors take an interested part in the work of the Student Assembly and the Student Government's committees.

Officers of the underclasses carry an important load on their shoulders. They must have full support of their fellow students to carry out any projects they may wish to undertake or accomplish.

Sophomores and Juniors also are outstanding in sports, music, science and art.

Truly; our underclassmen form the backbone of the Maury student body, which profits greatly from their work and participation.

... and Proud is thy Spirit

SOPHOMORE CLASS

Mrs. Louise Adkins, as capable advisor of this year's Sophomore Class, has accepted the difficult, but gratifying job of guiding and counseling the Sophomore students.

As President and Secretary of the Sophomore Class, Bunting Brown and Norma Taylor, respectively, have the responsibility of guiding the Sophomores in their undertakings.

Fun Ark, vice-president of the Sophomore Class, and Curtis Hethaway, treasurer, must work together with the other officers for a better Sophomore Class.

lots of luck and happiness in the future to a great team of players. you get great

SOPHOMORE CLASS

In the Sophomore Class lies Maury's present and future, for their early training serves as a stepping stone to more important and responsible participation in school activities. In the Student Assembly, they fall into line with Juniors and Seniors in working on important projects and in solving problems that arise. They join in such school events as the language tournament, the minstrels, and various clubs and organizations. Maury may be justly proud of her Sophomores, for without them an important link in the chain of teamwork would surely be missing.

Seniors

Serving as sponsor of the Senior class is Miss Frances Hatzopoulos. Under her able direction and capable leadership, we have withstood the many obstacles that have confronted us. Always willing to help us with our problems, she has endeavored to make our school life happy and profitable. Certainly it can be said that through her friendliness and genuine interest in the Senior class, she has made our Senior year remembered.

Leading us on when duty calls.

They have a right to smile, for Sarah Gray Wallace, Treasurer, and Lucinda Saunders, Secretary, have done a wonderful job for the senior class.

January senior class officers, Joanne Pratts, Vice-President, and Peggy Johnson, President, take a short and well deserved rest from their many duties.

Maury

The Maury Minstrel Band adds a "mellow" note under the direction of Mr. Saunders.

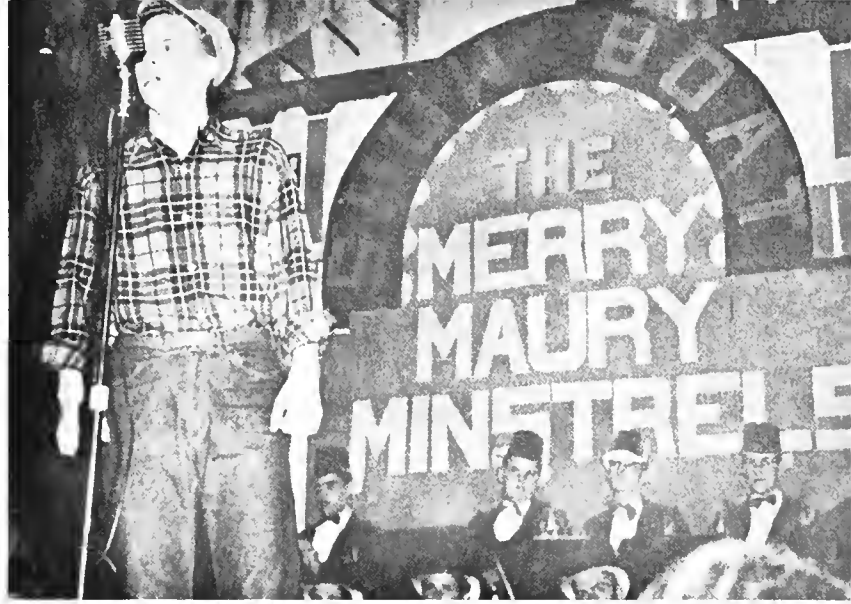

Yassah! Mr. Idiot! The spotlight is turned on the Merry Maury Minstrels, one of the main events of the school year. Besides the ten end men, a variety of talent was displayed by various Mauryites. This year's setting, a showboat, provided an excellent background for the songs, dances and novelty acts. Sonny Forbes created quite a sensation with his "Cry of the Wild Goose" and his "Rachmaninoff and Iz Off" act with Jo Barbara Cooper. Kenneth Lambert's "Charmagne," Betty Jean McWilliam's "Ain't Misbehavin'," Roger Sundahl's "Waterboy," and Faye Winfield's "Kiss in the Dark," got much praise from the audience. David Emorey displayed hidden talent with "Ole Man River." All in all the Minstrels was a big, bang up show!

Endman Sonny Forbes points in the general direction in which the wild goose flew.

The Gay Nineties Quartet gives out with "While Strolling Through the Park One Day."

Minstrels

Minstrel Singer Roger Sundahl presents his rendition of "Water Boy."

The rib-tickling trio of Jones, Old, and Nolley liven up the teachers' skit.

Maury, fair Maury,
Mould thou our destinies.
Guide us a right in all we do.
Thy name we cherish;
Thy memory honor;
Our Alma Mater, staunch and true.

Great is thy prestige,
Greater thy promise.
Glorious thy past, thy future sure.
Maury, stand steadfast;
Maury, lead truly;
Fair Alma Mater, strong and true.

Proud is thy history,
And proud thy spirit,
Leading us on when duty calls.
Thy name we'll glorify
And ever love thee,
Dear Alma Mater, great and true.

Some take the low road but we will take the high road.
